TWENTY-EIGHTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - 'B'

FIRST READING Wisdom 7: 7-11

Solomon's own request for wisdom centered more on the political savvy to keep his people in order than on the discernment of God's will for its own sake, but the wisdom envisioned here is contentment with union with God's plan manifested in right judgment and correct moral action.

SECOND READING Hebrews 4: 12-13

God's self-revealing word is one, manifesting the fullness of his presence. This word is a threat to those who are not open in faith, but at the same time is a promise of life to faithful hearers. This word is effective - it accomplishes what it says. Those who hate God flee from his word into self-destruction; those who love God come and are nourished. His word is a standard by which our own stature is measured.

GOSPEL Mark 10: 17-30

True life does not come from mere obedience to the law, but from abandonment of the heart to God. Riches and possessions can erect a serious obstacle to this abandonment, but not an insurmountable one. The true willingness to place God first, and even to have that attitude tested by deprivation, is the first requirement for entry into the kingdom. Whatever the 'eye of the needle' may be, it is small - and one cannot pass through carrying the baggage of egotism, pride, and worldly attachments.
